

Press release: 12.790-088/22

Significant decline in residential construction activity in 2021

Vienna, 2022-04-20 – According to Statistics Austria, 72 400 dwellings were approved for construction in Austria in 2021, excluding Vienna extensions, construction and conversion work. Compared to the previous year, 6% or 4 700 fewer permits were issued. Compared to the peak values of 2017 and 2019 (85 400 and 85 000 approved dwellings respectively), a decline could already registered in 2020 (minus a tenth or 8 100). In 2021, the number of building permits was 15% or 12 800 below the record levels of 2017 and 2019.

For more detailed results and further information concerning statistics of building permits please refer to the German Version.